TURBULENT 68TH CONGRESS CONVENES: JONES, OF WASHINGTON, G. O. P. WHIP

Army Team Prayed Before Every Game They Entered

WEST POINT, N. Y., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The West Point football team prayed before every game played in the past season, Captain Edward Garbisch, asserted in his last speech to the team. He attributed the team's victories to the prayers.

Standing on top of the stage coach from which captains of Army elevens have traditionally made their last speeches to the teams, Captain Garbisch said yesterday:

"Before every game this year, whether that game seemed to be a hard one or an easy one, every man of the squad prayed. We did not pray for victory, only that we might acquit ourselves like men, and after the game, every man on the eleven tore off his headgear and thanked God for the victory."

The man who beat the Navy by his four drop kicks Saturday, was wildly cheered by the 1,200 cadets who had gathered to welcome home the players.

Four Perish When Fire Roars Through a Crowded Rooming House; Many Leap to Safety

NEW YORK, December 1.—(By the United Press)—Four persons lost their lives today when fire roared through a crowded West Side rooming house, cutting off escape of many upon the upper floors and causing injuries to many who leaped from ledges to a small rear yard.

Two of the victims were burned beyond recognition, one was found overcome by smoke and a fourth died in Roosevelt Hospital. The fire, which may have been of incendiary origin, started in the basement and spread with great rapidity.

A passing taxi driver noticed the smoke and turned in an alarm, returning to help rescue roomers, many of whom slid down ropes from the third story.

Frank Donnelley later identified a woman who died at the hospital as his wife, Mary.

One woman was kelled in leaping from the roof.

The bodies of two other women were found in the hallways of the third and fourth floors. The man's body was found on the top floor.

Detectives started search for a motorman whose trolley car cut a hose line laid across Columbus avenue. The severing of the hose delayed combatting of the flames for several minutes.

Ousting of La Follette Group From Republican Party Means Bitter Fight In Congress Between Factions

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1924 by Times Publishing Company.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—Political history has just been made by the group of 32 Republican Senators who adopted a resolution endeavoring to "read out of the party" the four Republican senators who did not support President Coolidge in the last election.

Although there are many "old guard" leaders who doubted the wisdom of the step when first proposed and who would have preferred to let well enough alone, now that the action has been taken the men who attended the conference are a unit in declaring they will not vote to admit Senators La Follette of Wisconsin, Senators Ladd and Frazier of North Dakota and Senator Brookhart of Iowa to any future party conferences or to fill any vacancies that may occur in committee chairmanships.

May Join Democrats

Here are some of the effects which now may be expected to flow from the declaration of war on the insurgents.

1—The ostracized senators will form a group of their own and attempt to revive the coalition of last session with the Democrats. Such a combination can deadlock government for the next three months and compel the calling of an extra session of congress.

2—The Republican national party organization will be called upon to furnish funds for fights to be made at primaries in the future by regulars who wish to oppose men like Frazier and Ladd. And there are indications that plenty of money will be forthcoming from conservative strongholds like New York and Pennsylvania where the menace of the radicals has been widely advertised.

Officials At Standstill In Sheatsley Case

COLUMBUS, O., December 1.—With official investigation of the death of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, Lutheran pastor's wife, whose body was found in the parsonage furnace, virtually at a standstill, Dr. H. M. Brundage, pathologist, said his report on the victim's charred organs may be ready some time today.

Whether the pathologist's report will open any new avenues of investigation into the mystery, is doubtful. Authorities say that even if the report shows Mrs. Sheatsley was dead when her body entered the furnace, the information will be of little value in the light of a solution of the mystery.

Congress Holds Short Session Then Adjourns Until Tuesday

(BY PAUL R. MALLON)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the United Press)—The turbulent 68th Congress convened at high noon today for its regular short session.

The senate adjourned a short time later at 12:22 o'clock until noon tomorrow out of respect to members who have died since the summer adjournment.

Eighty-two of the ninety-five senators answered the opening roll call.

In the house the call showed 368 members out of 435 present.

The house was in session 55 minutes, adjourning after adopting resolutions of regret over the death during the recess of three representatives and three senators.

Senator Wesley Jones, of Washington, was appointed Republican whip by Senator Charles E. Curtis, new Republican leader.

Jones replaces Curtis who was elected to the leadership vacancy left by death of Henry Cabot Lodge.

He has been in the senate since 1909 and has taken an active part in the workings of theRepublican party.

Amidst all the official glamour of a social function, the house of representatives and the senate of the United States were called to order to attend to the affairs of the nation until the newly elected congress comes into power in March.

The galleries and floors of each house were crowded with frocked diplomats and dignitaries and austerely gowned social leaders, when the presiding officers ascended their rostrums and with a tap of the gavel summoned congress to business.

The soft tones of the grand-father's clock in the senate had hardly died away, proclaiming the noon hour, when Albert B. Cummins, acting president pro-tem in the absence of a vice president, declared the upper house in order. There was a scurry for positions. The buzz of the galleries subsided. Senators stopped their hand clasping, their joking and their back-slapping and stood with bowed heads at their desks while the chaplain prayed for guidance of the Divine Hand.

Gillett Opens Session of House

Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, who next session will take his seat in the senate, directed a similar scene in the house at the other end of the capitol.

Immediately after prayer there were quorum calls to place upon the official register the names of absentees. The clerk at his desk beneath the president's chair snapped out the names in alphabetical order.

The first name was that of Alva B. Adams, of Colorado, defeated in the election while filling the unexpired term of the late Senator Nicholson. His place was taken by Rice W. Means, who marched to the president's desk and presented his credentials. There was no answer to the name of Senator Brandegee. He killed himself during the recess because of financial difficulties.

William B. Butler, the new active leader of the Republican party, came forward at the call of the name of Henry Cabot Lodge, whom he replaces. He was accompanied under ancient custom by his present colleague, Senator David I. Walsh, a Democrat, of Massachusetts. Butler's seat was in the back row at the right near the seat of Magnus Johnson, the dirt farmer; Shipstead, the other new Farmer-Laborite and some Republicans who also cannot share his ideas.

Jesse Metcalfe, of Rhode Island, came to replace Lebaron Colt, who died. He was escorted by his Democratic colleague, Senator Gerry.

All three of the new senators with their right hands upraised, promised to fulfill to the best of their ability the obligations the oath placed upon them.

Motions then were adopted officially notifying the president and the house through committees that the senate "is in session and ready to do business."

Adjourns Until Tuesday

This formality concluded, Senator Charles E. Curtis, the new Republican leader, ordered the presentation of resotions respecting the death of the three members. It was thereupon proposed that the senate adjourn until Tuesday in their memory and with the usual closing formalities the opening session was summarily ended.

The house took somewhat longer for its program. It required only a few minutes to call the senate list, but it takes half an hour to call the roll of 435 house members. In due time, however, under motions from Representative Longworth, leader of the house Republicans, it too, adjourned, until tomorrow.

Then began the hum of conversation again. The seats in the galleries slowly emptied. Hundreds had stood in line for hours to glimpse the brief formalities. Many were unable to gain admittance. Those with official connections obtained entrance upon cards signed by government officials.

Mrs. Coolidge Attends Session

Mrs. Coolidge and a party of friends sat in the front row of themembers' gallery in the senate. With her were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns, Mrs. Wm. M. Butler, Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett and Mrs. A. W. Hert, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee.

She made such a hit that the newspaper reporters got curious and found out who the young actress really was. Then Mrs. Knight fled back to Dallas.

Trans-Atlantic Transmission of Photographs By Radio a Success

NEW YORK, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Trans-Atlantic transmission of photographs by radio is a reality.

Portraits of President Coolidge, Premier Stanley Baldwin, the Prince of Wales, and Owen D. Young, were among those despatched by wireless from London during a test conducted by the Radio Corporation of America at its offices. A jiggling stylus drew these pictures on an oscillating cylinder and 20 minutes after each original had been put on the air in London, it was reproduced in New York.

Officials of the company say the invention, an all-American instrument, by which not only pictures, but printed messages may be transmitted, is a complete success.

The device was developed by C. H. Taylor, chief engineer of the Radio Corporation; E. F. W. Alexander, consulting engineer, and R. H. Ranger, directing engineer. With but little refinement, they explained, their process will be available for Trans-Atlantic transportation of news pictures, secret business messages, diplomatic correspondence and identification photographs of criminals for police purposes.

The cost of transmission of a picture is between $30 and $40. This computation is based on the number of words that could be sent at toll rates during the 30 minutes required for the dispatch of a picture. It is expected however, that the sending time will be reduced considerably in the near future.

20 People Driven Into Bitter Cold By Apartment Blaze

CLEVELAND, O., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Four persons including two sick children and a crippled man, were rescued today when fire swept through the three-story Webster apartment on Woodland Avenue, driving twenty people to the snow-filled streets and biting cold of winter's first attack.

The mercury stood at 21 degrees above zero when flames were discovered in the basement of the building, used as a press room and paper stock storage by the Jewish Daily World. By the time firemen arrived, the blaze had spread rapidly through a stairway wall to the upper floors, occupied as living suites.

President Holds Breakfast Parley With Leaders Of The Senate

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge had a breakfast conference today with more than a dozen leaders in the senate, representative of the several groups on the Republican side. Senator Norris, of Nebraska, one of those identified with the LaFollette bloc, was present.

Others were Senators Curtis, of Kansas, the newly elected majority leader; Borah, of Idaho, who is to become chairman of the foreign relations committee. Moses, of New Hampshire, Wadsworth, New York; Hale, Maine; Jones, Washington; Sterling, South Dakota; Warren, Wyoming; Spencer, Missouri; McLean, Connecticut; Watson, Indiana; Smoot, Utah, and Cummins, Iowa.

All of these senators are chairmen of the more important senate committees including finance, military, naval, commerce, appropriations, banking and post office.

The conference was devoted to discussion of the legislative program with no definite conclusions attempted. It was the first of a series of breakfast conferences planned by Mr. Coolidge and arrangements were made for another meeting with another group of senators tomorrow. House leaders later are to be invited to the White House for similar discussions.

BISHOP BROWN FILES GROUNDS OF ERROR

CLEVELAND, O., December 1.—(By the United Press)—Bishop William Montgomery Brown, convicted of heresy by an Episcopal tribunal here, filed his grounds of error today charging:

1—That the tribunal was "loaded" by irregular elections, staged for the purpose of ousting him from the church.

2—That his rights in the trial were invaded by refusal of the court to permit him to introduce affidavits of witnesses.

3—That he was refused permission to examine the tribunal members who were both judge and jury and who, he had reason to believe, had formed antagonistic opinions before the trial opened.

4—That the court failed to specify the doctrine which he was charged with violating.

The brief, a 104-page document, cites eight other grounds of error on which Bishop Brown bases his appeal. The appeal will be heard by a court of review here January 13.

The review tribunal will sit in the vestry house of Trinity Cathedral, where the trial was held last June.

The brief was sent to all bishops and rectors of the Episcopal Church in America with an apeal for a charitable reading of his defense.

Bishop Brown was found guilty of errors of doctrine in 23 quotations from his book, "Communism and Christianism."

CHICAGO, December 1.—(By the United Press)—One woman was killed, approximately 25 persons injured, three seriously, but not fatally, when a Pennsylvania passenger train from Cincinnati crashed into the rear end of a special train from Columbus, about two blocks north of the Englewood passenger depot here today.

Two cars of the special were crushed and the engine of the Cincinnati train was derailed. The special had slowed down for some reason when the regular train crashed into it. The regular train was picking up speed after stopping at the station when the wreck occurred.

The dead woman is an unidentified Italian, apparently about 40 years old. Her six year old son was one of the seriously injured.

He is unable to tell his name because of the seriousness of his injuries.

SAYS CONGRESS MUST LIBERALIZE THE NATIONAL BANKING SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the United Press)—The National Banking system of the country faces ruin unless congress acts to liberalize branch banking laws which now are seriously discriminating against it, Comptroller of the Currency Henry M. Dawes declared in his annual report here today.

"It is my deliberate opinion," said Dawes, "that if the general extension of branch banking is not curbed within the Federal Reserve system on the one hand and if the National Banks are not permitted equality within city limits on the other hand, directions from the National Banking System will take place within a period of a very few years to such an extent as to reduce the National Banking system to the position of an unimportant factor in the nation's financial structure."

Can a husband hide the life he leads away from home? Can a husband love others—but love his wife the most? Can happiness be where a mother's smiles hide a father's indiscretions from the four children they love?

Only a drama as poignant, as beautiful, as searchingly truthful as this, could answer so vital a problem.

Ross County Sheriff Sued for Divorce

CHILLICOTHE, O., Dec. 1—Hazel Verne Swepston, by her attorneys, Capplo and Schaeffer, has filed a suit for divorce from Donald B. Swepston, the sheriff. She asks alimony and restoration to her maiden name of Hazel Verne Hummel. They were married here Sept. 2, 1920, and have had no children.

She charges that he has not shown her the respect due her; that he has frequently absented himself from home, his whereabouts being unknown to her; that he has refused to provide her with a home of her own, "insisting that his mother reside with them" and "always making his mother instead of his wife the head of the household"; that he was guilty of cruelty to her in frequently telling her that he "did not love her any more, wanted to get a divorce from her and would do so"; that he claimed she was "a source of embarrassment to him in public and he would not therefore take her out with him in public," all of which, she says, "caused her great mental agony and suffering and nervousness."

It is understood that an agreement has been reached a sto alimony and that the suit will not be contested.

OBITUARY

Henry Uhl

Chris Uhl of Fourth street, has received a message conveying the news of the death of his brother, Henry Uhl, who passed away last Friday at his home in Los Angeles. Mr. Uhl was for years a prominent cigar manufacturer here and had his place of business in the Massie Block, Second and Market streets. After leaving Portsmouth about 12 years ago he located in Oklahoma City and remained there until two years ago, when he located in Los Angeles. Mr. Uhl, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Uhl, was born in 1848. In addition to his wife he leaves an adopted daughter, Miss Sadie Uhl. Funeral services and interment will be held in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Lou Gravitt Hill

A stroke of paralysis suffered by Mrs. Lou Gravitt Hill, wife of William Hill of near Crabtree postoffice, Duck Run pike, last Friday noon, resulted in her death Saturday night about 11, o'clock. Mrs. Hill suffered with pneumonia last August and following this she developed blood-poisoning in her left foot. A short time afterwards she was removed to Hempstead hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the foot to arrest the progress of the poisoning. She underwent the operation in September and after about three weeks was removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Tatman, on Market street. She remained there about five weeks and had been at her own home only a week and four days when fatally stricken. Mrs. Hill had been getting about on crutches and had virtually recovered from her long illness. She had been seated at the table for the noonday meal but a few minutes when she suffered the stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. Lou Gravitt Hill was a daughter of James and Jane Gravitt and was born at Port Isabel, Clermont county, May 1, 1875. She was married March 22, 1911, to William Hill of this county. Most of her life had been spent in Scioto county, the parents moving to the West Side while she was still quite young.

Mrs. Hill is the first of a family of nine children to be claimed by death. The mother passed away this last April.

Surviving are the bereaved husband, her father, James Gravitt of Duck Run and the following brothers and sisters: Edward of Jamestown, O., Emmett of Arion, James at home, Isaac of Duck Run, Ray of Jeffersonville, O., Mrs. Harry Tatman of Market street, Mrs. Carl Cook of Logan street and Miss Verna Gravitt of Timmonds avenue.

Mrs. Hill united with the Baptist church at the age of seventeen years and at the time of death was a member of the Freewill Baptist church on Duck Run.

The family is one of the best known on the West Side and they have a legion of friends throughout the county, who will be shocked to learn of Mrs. Hill's death, since it had become known of late that she was well on the road to recovery.

Funeral services will be held from the Rush Free Will Baptist church on Duck Run Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, with Rev. H. Stewart Tillis of the First Baptist church, this city, in charge. Burial will be in Rushtown cemetery.

Mrs. Ella Willard Steece
(Irontonian)

A wave of sorrow, universal in its scope, swept the city Saturday afternoon when it was learned that the spirit of Mrs. Ella Willard Steece, widow of the late S. B. Steece, and one of Ironton's most prominent and best loved citizens, had loosed its earthly anchorage and had drifted peacefully out into Eternity with the tide of a passing day.

Ella Willard Steece was born at Buckhorn Furnace, Lawrence County, Ohio, on March 3, 1847, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Willard. Her parents moved to this city and took up their residence at Fifth and Buckhorn streets, in 1851.

On May 30, 1867, she was united in marriage at the First Presbyterian Church here, to Samuel Brady Steece and their married life was a period of joyous contentment and happy companionship until the death of Mr. Steece separated them on October 28, 1918. To their union were born the following children: Mrs. J. K. Richards, Albert C. and Brady Steece, of this city; Mrs. T. M. Ball, of Cincinnati, and Harry E. Steece, who preceded her in death last June. In addition to the four children, one sister, Mrs. H. B. Wilson, of New York, survives. A brother, the late E. B. Willard, of this city, died in 1923, and two sisters, Mrs. Samuel McCullough and Mrs. W. S. Kirker, also preceded her in death.

Mrs. Hannah Griver Bauer

Friends and relatives regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Hannah Bauer, who was well known throughout this county, where she had been a resident for about 60 years.

She was born at Pine Grove Furnace April 2, 1846. The family moved to Dogwood Ridge when she was quite young. Here she was united in marriage to Adam Bauer in 1867. They then made their home at Pinkerman. Here they resided until the death of Mr. Bauer in 1917. Since that time she had made her home with her daughters.

It was at the home of Mrs. Kate Krick, a daughter, near Cincinnati, that she passed away Nov. 30, 1924, at the age of 78 years, 7 months and 28 days.

She is survived by seven children, Mrs. Kate Krick and Mrs. Martha Mount of Cincinnati, Mrs. Rose Compton of Martinsville, Mrs. Anna Burton of Indiana, Frank Bauer and Fred Bauer of South Webster, and Dan Bauer, Sciotoville; seventeen grand-children, two great grand children, also four sisters and a brother, Mrs. George Coryell of Portsmouth, Mrs. Martha Price of Dayton, Mrs. Eliza Fritz and Mrs. Mary Ford of Portsmouth, and Fred Griver of Sciotoville.

She was a consistent member of the Pinkerman U. B. Church. The funeral will be held Wednesday, December 3rd at 1 o'clock, at the home of her son, Frank Bauer, at Pinkerman. Interment will be at South Webster cemetery.

Fire at Steel Plant

Grease catching fire in an oil house in the Portsmouth Works, Wheeling Steel Corporation today was put out by the New Boston firemen before any damage resulted other than the loss of a kettle of grease used in the hot mills, which caught fire.

Vulcan Plant Slightly Damaged By Fire

The plant of the Vulcan Last Co., Third and Jefferson streets, was slightly damaged by fire Monday morning when it was discovered in the blower system. It is believed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion. Firemen used one line of hose and 15 chemicals to confine the flames in the one section of the blower system. By doing this the plant was not damaged by water as it was several months ago when fire, starting in the blower system, entailed a loss of several thousand dollars before being extinguished.

Dodge Cars Are Cheaper

Machines Collide; Woman Hurt

IRONTON, O., Dec. 1—Mrs. Charles O. Smith of 1535 South Fifth street was painfully injured Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when her husband's Ford sedan was knocked from the road near Franklin Furnace by another machine. She sustained bad bruises about the side and, although resting well at her home last evening, fears that her injuries might take a serious turn were entertained.

Mr. Smith, his wife and daughter, Vera, were coming to Ironton in their Ford car at the tim eof the accident. The former says a Jordan machine, driven by Mrs. W. E. Higgins, of South Point, approaching from the rear, skidded into their machine.

Early Army Chaplains

The War department says that an act of the Continental congress, passed July 5, 1776, provided that a chaplain be appointed for each regiment in the Continental army, and that their allowance be increased to $33 a month. The rank held by chaplain in the American army during the Revolutionary war has not been ascertained, nor has it been ascertained whether the rank was the same for all chaplains in the Continental army at any given time, or whether the rank differed in the militia of the several colonies or states that furnished troops for that war.

Ousted

Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the great First Baptist church of Fort Worth, Texas, charged that the general conference of Texas Baptists indorsed the teaching of the evolution theory. As a result the convention refused to seat the eight delegates from Norris' church and the pastor's charge was denounced as "an insult to this conference."

TOP TO BOTTOM — FIELD, LAIRD, McGRAW, KRUEZ

Pennsylvania probably boasts the first all-lefthanded backfield in the history of football.

It is made up of Pastor Field, who plays left half; Jim Laird, quarter, Captain "Muggsy" McGraw, right half, and Al Kruez, fullback.

When the critics first saw the quartet in action they suspected a new variety of gridiron strategy, but investigation disclosed all the athletes were naturally lefthanded.

Ousting

3—The "progressive" Republicans like Senator Norris of Nebraska, Borah of Idaho, Johnson of California and perhaps Senator Howell of Nebraska who do not like the action of the party conference will have to decide whether they will join La Follette, Frazier, Ladd and Brookhart or go with the regulars. Senators Shipstead and Magnus Johnson of Minnesota have never used the Republican label, always classing themselves as of the Farmer Labor Party.

4—Acts of reprisals are being considered by the La Follette Republicans who have the power to upset the organization of the House of Representatives if they can get the Democrats to join them.

The most important question that has arisen, therefore is: "What shall the Democrats do about it?"

Democrats Tired of Progressives

Senator Smoot and others who have been talking informally with Democratic Senators say the latter are tired of combining with the La Follette group. In the last election the La Follette movement split the Democratic party and ruined what chance the Democrats did have in at least eight states where Mr. Coolidge was a plurality choice. Also the La Follette campaign diverted attention from the campaign of John W. Davis and drove thousands of conservative Democrats into the Republican camp. Under such circumstances little love is lost between the Democrats and the Insurgent Republicans.

Politics, however, make strange bed fellows. And expediency is a stronger influence than logic. The Democrats need the strength of the La Follette voters to build up their own party. The Republican party is avowedly conservative. The Democrats have a conservative wing, too, which will resist any alliance with the La Follette group, yet in the last session of congress the Democratic conservatives voted time and again with the La Follette senators for party reasons. The same may be expected to happen again. A minority usually does all it can to embarrass a majority.

May Mean New Democratic Party

Out of it may emerge a new Democratic party which slowly places its conservative constituents in the minority. Much as the Democratic conservatives may dislike the radicals they may turn from the Republican primary machinery and enter Democratic contests. The purpose of the La Follette group heretofore has been to reform the Republican party from within. The action of the Republican conference of Senators indicates that so far as the upper house of congress is concerned that process is a failure. Now the radicals can take up the task of making the Democratic party suit their ideas of government. The Republican conservatives will not be disturbed by that as they have wanted for sometime to see radicals and conservatives classified in two parties. Will the solid South which has upon many occasions sent conservative Democrats to the senate who differ only in name from conservative Republicans permit the Democratic party to become the liberal or radical party? The last election has left the leaders of the Democratic party demoralized. The Republican senatorial conference tosses the La Follette Republicans into the arms of the Democrats and challenges them to take the radicals unto their bosom and make a fight between radicalism and conservatism.

Unless the La Follette Republicans fight back in the coming session of Congress, the action of the Republican conference has no immediate effect on committee chairmanships because the organization of Congress remains the same and there will be no rearrangement of committees till the new Congress meets in December 1925 or in extra session after March 4th. But the action is not a gesture. Its the beginning of a real political battle which may reshape he two major parties or mean the be-inning of a permanent organization of e independents inside and outside of gress.

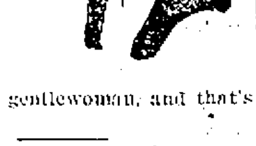
Miss Dolly Wise



She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me some other years that Thanksgiving came on November 27th besides this year?
DAILY READER.

It fell on the 27 in 1913 and in 1919. It will come again on the 27th in 1930 and in 1941 and 1947.

Dear Miss Wise—I have lived in the largest cities in this country including, Boston, New York City and Baltimore, and if I must say such a thing, the people in this burg give me a pain. Dolly we all know that there is no one in this city or near here as rich as the Goulds or Vanderbilts or any of the New York 400, but you would think they owned the earth and everything in it to see them strut their stuff. Dolly if one calls any of these ordinary people around here by their first names they will give you a severe calling down. I just wonder who this class think they are anyway? I have been in the company of people far ahead in wealth and social position than any person living in this town and they did not act that way. Dolly I have a right to talk like this as one of these ill-bred individuals, who is considered a snob by everyone, tried to ignore me in a crowd, and make me feel that she was better than I, because her husband had a few thousand dollars more than mine. Dolly I was told that she was born in a log cabin herself, but of course that is no disgrace, as Lincoln was born in a log cabin, but money has made a fool of her. Dolly she treats people with disrespect because she thinks no one has any sense or brains but her. I hope when she and her kind read this letter that they will broaden out and not think that money is everything in this world.
BROADMINDED READER.

She sure must have snubbed you to rile you up like this. However, if you were as diplomatic as you are broadminded you would not have noticed her "snub," and if you were a little wiser, you would not have seen the woman at all, except as the leading character in a little newly rich comedy skit. You see these people every day—in the comic supplement, in the movies and in vaudeville. Like the poor, we will always have the "newly-rich" with us, and the sooner you learn to sit back and enjoy their little show the better off you will be. They don't need a press agent, as they advertise themselves wherever they go. I think they are too funny to take seriously. When they spludge around and make a big noise, just smile to yourself and consider the source. The well bred woman, be she rich or poor goes on her way, loyal and loving and true to her friends, whether they be the rich of today, or the rich of a century or the poor of all times. She understands that for cultured, well bred people, the real gentlefolk of a community, the highest forms of enjoyment are open without great wealth. She endeavors at all times and in every way to show herself as she really is, that noblest product of our civilization—an American gentlewoman, and that's that.

Dear Dolly—Can you tell me when John MacCormack will sing in Columbus? I heard he was coming there soon but don't know the exact date.
WANT-TO-KNOW.

The famous Irish tenor will sing in Columbus on Friday of this week.

Dear Dolly—Can you tell me where the U. S. S. Tennessee is located, and how long would it take a package to reach it?

Address the package in care of the Postmaster of New York City and the person it is addressed to will get it all right. If it is a Christmas package I would advise you to send it at once and mark on the outside "Do not open until Christmas." It would be better to have it arrive a few days ahead of time than a day late.

Dear Dolly—I saw in the paper some time back an editorial about a bell in a Cincinnati church tower being too large to ring and I would like to know what church it is in? The article said that it shattered all the windows in the neighborhood it was so loud and powerful.
ANXIOUS READER.

I presume you mean the one in St. Francis de Sales Church on Walnut Hills. The bell was "willed" to the church by a former parishioner, and is too large and loud to ring, but I think they can toll it occasionally.

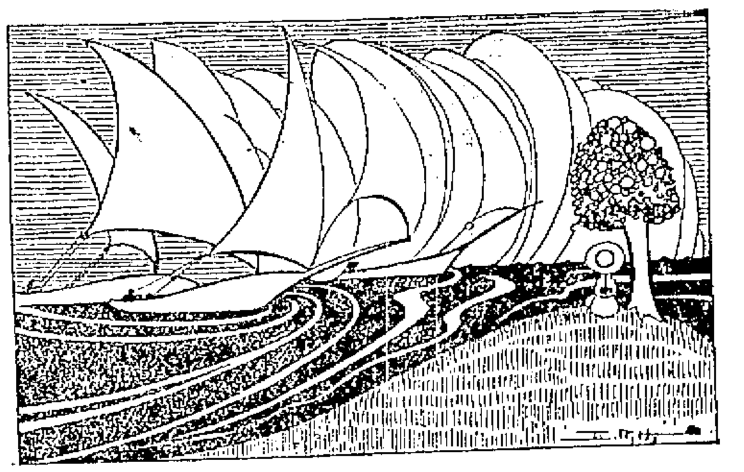
ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

A SUMMER'S DAY RIDDLE



"I saw some ships go sailing by,
One summer day inthe morning."

"What is the next riddle?" asked the Twins when the Riddle Lady had stopped to think for a few minutes.

"Now I have one," she said at last. "It's not a hard one. You should be able to guess it in about two minutes." So she began:

"I saw some ships go sailing by,
One summer's day in the morning,
And what do you think they looked like then?
Some looked like monks—some looked like men,
But no two were alike—there were ten times ten,
That summer's day in the morning.

These ships were sailing the deep blue sky,
That summer's day in the morning,
One was a gnome in a tasselled cap,
One was a bear in a hunter's trap,
And one was a kitten just having a nap,
That summer's day in the morning.
"I lay in the clover and watched them go,
That summer's day in the morning,
One was a goose shedding tufts of down,
One was a rollicking circus-clown,
And one was all chimneys like London Town,
That summer's day in the morning.

"Now what do you think these ships could be?
That I watched that summer morning,
Changing their shapes with each passing breeze,
Turning from houses and people to trees,
As fluffy as elder-down, busy as bees,
On that lovely summer morning."

"I know! We know!" cried everybody. Indeed, there was such a noise that the Riddle Lady had to cover her ears.

"Well, what?' she laughed.

"Clouds?" shouted all the Mother Goose people.

"Oh, dear!" sighed the Riddle Lady. "I just know I have made it too easy. Now let me see what I can do about a prize for everybody?"

"Everybody guessed it, so why don't you make one prize do for the whole crowd?" said Nancy, who was a smart little girl.

"But what kind of a prize would that be?" asked the Riddle Lady.

"Ask another riddle," laughed Nancy.

The Riddle Lady laughed, too. "Do you like them as well as that?" she asked.

"Oh, don't we just!" said Jack and Jill. "We like them all to pieces."

"Well, then," said the Riddle Lady. "here is a little short one. 'What word contains every letter'?"

"Goodness!" remarked the Ten O'Clock Scholar to the Wise Man, "it must be un-con-sti-tu-tion-al-ity."

"No," said the Wise Man. "it must be in-com-pre-hen-si-bil-ity."

Well, they guessed all the long hard words in the dictionary, but it was none of them.

"Give up?" asked the Riddle Lady.

"Yes!" shouted everybody.

"Alphabet," said the Riddle Lady.

"My, my! What dummies you are," said Jack Spratt. "Anybody might have known that."

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

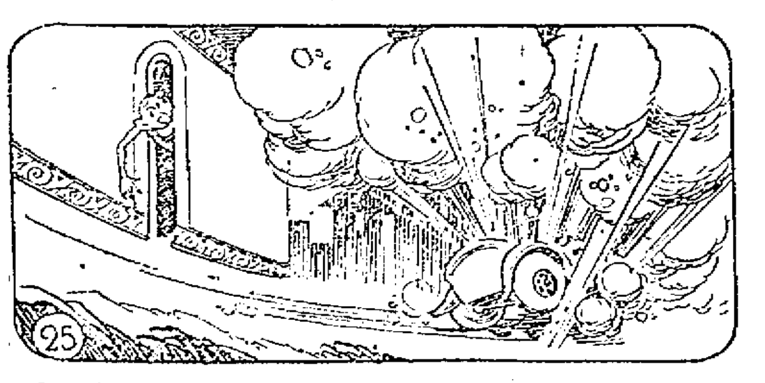
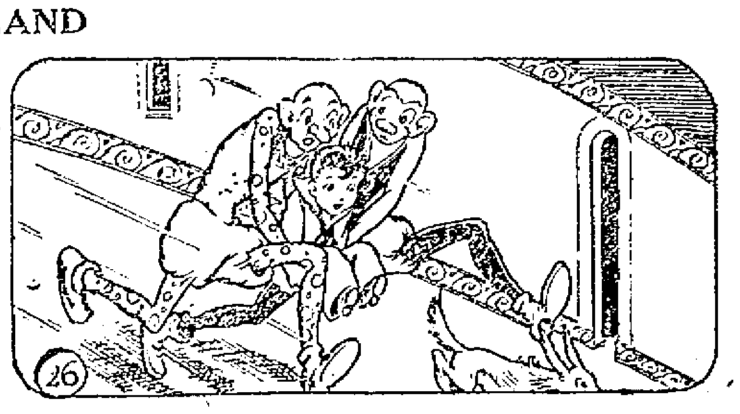
JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — LANKY LAND

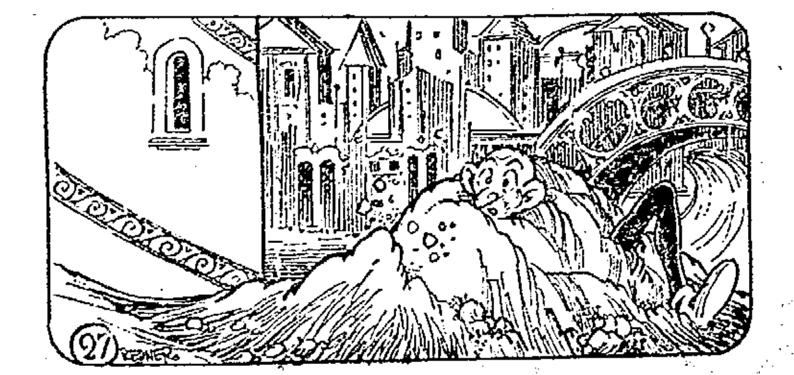
BY ELTON



Just then Jack happened to look ahead and he saw a great cloud of sand burst int othe air a short distance away. "Looks like there was an explosion," he shouted. "That couldn't be," replied a lanky man, "'Cause there isn't anything in Lanky Land to explode."



"Well, something has surely happened," chimed in the other lanky man. "Let's run on and see, what it is." "Oh, I've got to rest for a minute," said Jack. "I'm all tired out." But the lanky men made a seat with their hands and carried Jack on down the hillside.



Suddenly they came upon the cause of the sand burst. The little old auto had crashed into a big sandhouse, tipped it over and sent the lanky driver head over heels. Sand had flown in every direction and when it came down again it nearly buried the driver. (Continued.)

WHAT CHRISTMAS SEALS SUPPORT

In the 16 years of conducting annual seal sales over 30 million dollars have been realized. Everybody who has purchased seals has been a partner in this big campaign.

What have all the millions of supporters of the Christmas seal helped to support? There are now more than 600 hospitals and sanatoria with nearly 70,000 beds; and over 600 clinics and dispensaries where persons may go for periodic physical examinations. At least 10,000 nurses who are detecting disease in the schools and homes are giving, not only treatment but helpful health instruction to mothers and children. Research workers and statisticians are collecting data of untold value. Newspaper and magazine articles have helped to appeal to all ages, types and classes of both native and foreign born.

Other forms of publicity are lectures, speakers, demonstrations and exhibits, motion pictures, health plays and pageants, posters and stories. Boys and girls are being taught good daily habits of health. For those who are malnourished or predisposed to tuberculosis at least 3,000 open air schools, preventoria and outdoor camps have been established. Seals support in full ten of fifteen health camps in Ohio.

Members of the Exchange Club have their plans wells formulated for the sale of stamps in Portsmouth this year and the little health seals will soon appear on the street.

THEY have learned from experience that no matter how many other treatments have been tried without success, Resinol Ointment is often the one that brings speedy relief from chafing, eczema or similar itching, embarrassing eruptions.

Its soothing healing action is brought about by qualities which cause it to sink deep into the pores and reach the very root of the disorder. It is absolutely harmless and does not smart or burn when applied to the most irritated surface.

To keep the skin healthy many people have adopted the daily use of Resinol Soap. Unsurpassed for toilet and bath. All druggists sell Resinol products.

The occasion was the annual observence of B'nai B'rith Day.

Mr. Lebman told of the many institutions the order has founded and maintains for orphans, those afflicted with consumption and schools where young men are taught vocations of manual labor.

"The Independent Order of B'nai B'rith is the largest and most influential and embraces the widest scope of activity in the world of any Jewish organization."

"It's precepts are Benevolence, Brotherly Love and Harmony, and it's purpose is to serve and uplift struggling humanity,"said Mr. Lebman.

The choir of the Jewish congregation rendered music as a part of the program of the afternoon.

The speaker was introduced by Wm. Atlas, president of the Portsmouth Lodge.

It was the purest accident that gave Donald White the opportunity he had been looking for ever since the voyage began.

He was down in that Holy of Holies to which access is only given at stated times, the storehouse of all luggage labeled "Wanted on the Voyage." He wasn't at all clear how it happened, but a heavy, iron-bound trunk, disturbed by the feverish activities of a baggage steward, descended suddenly upon the unprotected head of a fat Chinese gentleman who was pensively sorting out a bunch of small brass implements that looked more like fishhooks than keys. There are limits even to the resisting powers of Chinese skulls, and Mr. Oei-Kuang-Yin uttered a peculiar little grunt and fell to the floor in a state of unconsciousness.

The two male passengers who were nearest lifted the offending box from the legs of the prostrate oriental; the baggage steward sent for the doctor; a woman screamed and White made for the upper deck to break the news to Miss Suon-Heng.

He adjusted his rimless glasses.

"What is it?" asked Miss Heng, raising her sweeping lashes.

White looked hard at a long chair where a book had been turned face-downward to mark the page.

"Oh!" said White with an effort. "The—er—Chinese gentleman who accompanies you has met with an accident. I thought I'd better tell you."

The girl did not display the slightest sign of dismay or surprise. She inclined her head slightly to one side and honored him with a smile he did not quite understand. She removed the book from Mr. Kuang-Yin's chair.

"I believe you are rather glad," she said.

White gasped and collapsed in the place she had made for him at her side.

"Really Miss Heng!"

"Glad of this opportunity, I mean," she told him sweetly. "You've done nothing but stare at me since we left Southampton. You've no idea how much your glasses magnify. It has been most embarrassing!"

"I'm awfully sorry!"

"Please don't apologize. I'm honored." She allowed her beautiful long hand with their wonderfully polished nails to rest on his sleeve for the fraction of a second.

"I say. That's frightfully good of you!" stammered White.

"Not at all," said Miss Heng. "Now please tell me what has happened to my fat but honorable gaoler."

"A trunk fell on him and laid him out. He looked pretty bad when I left. They've sent for the doctor. I'm afraid he'll be laid up for the whole trip."

She uttered a sigh of relief.

"Isn't it providential!" exclaimed the amazing Miss Heng. "You see," she continued before White could break in, "I'm just a poor, little, fluttering bird in a cage, a prisoner bound by the conventions of my own country, and hating to leave the delightful unconventions of yours." She passed her hand, with an eloquent gesture, down the glistening surface of her coat. "Behold my prison-dress!"

"But I like it," protested White, warming up. "It suits you amazingly."

She looked along the deck, half nervously.

"You are sure you were not mistaken? It is not possible he will recover—soon?"

He shook his head.

"You can stake your life on that."

"Listen," she began, reassured. "Mr. Kuang-Yin is my uncle, symbolical of dear old China as it used to be, under whose customs I am condemned to marry a man I have not seen since I was a child. I am a daughter of the new era. You cannot realize the thickness of the wall I had to break down before I made them send me to Europe to study. Now it is all finished," she concluded sadly. "I have grown so English—and I hate to go back. Isn't it rotten luck?"

"By Jove, it is!" said White fervently. Her perfect command of his own language amazed him. "Who are you going to marry, Miss Heng?"

"You wouldn't be any wiser if I told you," she laughed merrily. "I shall be Mrs. Lai-Ho very soon now and my prison will be the wilderness. He is what you call a rubber king. He is rich and his plantations are everywhere: Java, Sumatra, Malacca—"

"And Borneo?" White jerked out suddenly.

The girl started.

"You have heard of him, then?"

"I should think so! He's just acquired an estate near Kinarut, bought it from Jacobson's executors. Miss Heng," he cried excitedly, "D'you know we shall be neighbors!"

She regarded him sadly.

"It will be so [illegible]," she said. "Chinese women never know their neighbors, especially when they are English!"

White's face dropped. He clasped his hands between his knees and looked down at the deck. Suddenly he felt a gentle tug at his sleeve.

"Won't you tell me about my future husband?" she said softly.

"[illegible] Lord!" exclaimed the [illegible] "Of course you don't [illegible] what he's like!"

Donald White leaned on the white [illegible] of the boat deck and looked [illegible] out over the dark waters. He stood alone, for it was after [illegible] and the stars blinked down at him from a sky of [illegible] blackness. [illegible] days since his first meeting with Miss Suon-Heng had slipped [illegible] the [illegible] moments of a [illegible] dream. Soon they would be only a happy memory. He would be [illegible] on the [illegible] Estate, [illegible] the sweating coolies [illegible] [illegible] fresh [illegible] [illegible] Miss Heng [illegible] a wall [illegible] had built [illegible] the great statues [illegible] held fast [illegible] Great Divide of east and west, and [illegible] that grew there. The dragon that [illegible] the tree had many heads and the stern [illegible] his small [illegible] for Miss Suon-Heng.

[illegible] a slim form [illegible] his side from the shadow of a boat. His arm stole round her and she fell sobbing on his coat. The sweet spices of the mysterious orient rose to his nostrils, intoxicating him; the rich silk of her jacket was pleasant to the touch.

She looked up at him through her tears.

"I had to come to you, Donald," she murmured. "My uncle is almost well. Tomorrow he will get up, and my prison doors will close on me forever."

SHE LOOKED UP AT HIM THROUGH HER TEARS.

He felt her trembling in his arms like a frightened bird.

"Is there no way out?" he asked softly.

She shook her head.

"To disobey—is death!" she whispered.

"I'm not afraid of death, Susie," he told her, using the pet name he had invented in his dreams.

She smiled proudly.

"It can never be," she said. "I must go to my cage on the one side of the way. I shall know you are there—on the other side, but I shall never see you. Will you mind—very much, Donald?"

He crushed her to him.

"I'll be hell," he cried hoarsely and kissed her lips.

A man with a bandaged head, who had just come up from the deck below, saw the two figures by the rail. His yellow face, as he turned to retrace his footsteps, was utterly devoid of expression.

"Come in, Mr. Lai-Ho!"

The stout Chinese rubber king handed his red umbrella to a servant where Corrigan was waiting. Corrigan, huge, clean-shaven and genial, held out a welcoming hand. The oriental, clasping his sun helmet to his chest, sat down in the chair the Englishman had placed for him.

"Thanks," he murmured, with a peculiarly guttural intonation. Corrigan pushed forward an open tin of cigarets.

"I am not blind,' he said presently, tapping his temple with a forefinger.

Corrigan raised his brows.

"No," he agreed politely. "I should scarcely have thought so."

The oriental flicked the ash from his cigaret and sat back in the long krosi, his dark eyes regarding Corrigan through diagonal slits.

"When I have a fliend," pursued Lai-Ho, "I do evelything that I can for him; but"—a malevolent light flashed suddenly from his eyes—"if I have an enemy, Mr. Colligan, it would be better for him if he had never lived at all!"

"A very admirable code," said Corrigan, his hands in his pockets; "but I fail to understand—"

"You are my fliend and that is why I come to you this afternoon. You will lemember, Mr. Colligan, the cilcumstances of my malliage. Following the customs of my countly, it was allanged for me by my palents in my infancy. Thlee weeks ago I blought my wife to her new home." He shook his head slowly from side to side. "The world we live in is too small, my fliend!"

Corrigan fidgeted with a stray end of bamboo that had somehow worked up from the arm of his chair. From the little he knew of this oriental magnate, he felt convinced he had not come there without a purpose. He knew, too, that his neighbor was not prone to wasting words; but he couldn't for the life of him discover to what end the conversation was leading. He had never set eyes on Mrs. Lai-Ho, to his knowledge. He assumed an expression of intense interest.

As It Happened 24 Years Ago

(From our Issue of Dec. 1, 1900.)

Turkey raffles were all the go throughout the city and it was a common sight to see men pacing up and down street with one or two gobblers in hand.

A license to wed was issued to George F. Knost, 28, farmer, of Madland, and Clara Thompson, 28, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson, of Madland.

Levi D. York took a suite of office rooms in the Damarin building.

"If a woman plays euchre throw her out of the church," Rev. George Stuart, evangelist, declared during the course of a sermon delivered at the Bigelow church.

Paul Esselborn returned from Columbus where he took in one of the football games on the holiday.

Mrs. Ben Deiner departed for Maysville to join her husband, who had secured a position there.

Dan J. Ryan, secretary of state, became a great admirer of Senator John Sherman when the latter prevented the chairman of a political meeting held at Portsmouth from putting Ryan, the bare-footed lad of 13 summers, off the platform. Ryan was elected to the legislature and during the bitter fight which resulted in the election of Mr. Sherman as United States Senator, the Portsmouth law-maker supported him.

Miss Jones Better

The condition of Miss Corliss Jones, 19, who was struck by an automobile at Eighteenth and Chillicothe streets Friday evening, shows a slight improvement, it was announced by those attending her at Hempstead hospital Monday.

"Camp Followers"

Advancing prosperity is apt to carry with it certain "camp followers" who fatten on other people's hard-won money — the salesmen of worthless securities.

Did it ever occur to you that the same reason these gentlemen never talk to bankers about their proposition is the very reason you should talk to us about it BEFORE you give them your money?

Berean Class Entertains Kiddies in the Children's Home; Real Dinner Is Enjoyed

About thirty members of the Loyal Berean class of the First Christian Bible school, were hostesses to the kiddies of the Children's Home, Sunday afternoon. The Bereans, all carrying well filled baskets of fried chicken, pie, cake, baked beans, sandwiches, etc. swooped down upon the home at the noon hour and in less time than it takes to tell it, the eight-six children of the home were doing their level best to get on the outside of that wonderful dinner. They were all seated in the dining room, which was provided with 100 chairs, and the way these fine looking lads and lassies made that dinner disappear was proof positive they were sound in body and exceptionally bright in mind.

It has been the annual custom of the Bereans to give the kiddies of the home a picnic dinner, and when the children were notified by Superintendent Howe that the great day had arrived, there was a shout of happiness. When the big automobiles were chug-chugging their way to the top of the hill the children danced with glee, for they knew they were going to have the fun of devouring fried chicken with all the trimmings.

The afternoon was filled with fun and all present had a wonderfully profitable time. The children assembled in the "auditorium" on the second floor, where they rendered an impromptu program, consisting of songs, readings, exercises, etc. Talks were made by several of the guests all of whom complimented the superintendent and matron upon the healthy appearance of the children. A tour of inspection showed everything about the institution in a tidy condition—despite the fact that some of the Bereans are expert housekeepers, they could not find a speck of dirt. The bright happy faces of the children, their clean, warm clothes, their deportment—all went to prove the institution is capably managed and that any child is fortunate indeed to find a home there.

After the entertainment, a shout of joy went up when it was announced that A. L. Frankel, proprietor of the Union Store, Chillicothe street, had joined in the spirit of the occasion and sent a ten gallon freezer of ice cream. And it was apportioned around, the kiddies getting a heaping helping—all they could eat. The cream was brought to the institution by the manager of the Union Store, Martin Lang.

Dr. R. E. Shelton, dentist, Masonic Temple, had to crawl a square Saturday night to get assistance after he had fallen at Eighth and Washington streets and suffered a broken right leg near the ankle. After Dr. Shelton had remained at the corner for some minutes in the hope that someone would pass, he started to crawl to Ninth and Washington, where a friend lives. When about half way between Eighth and Ninth he hailed a passing taxi and the driver said he would be back in a few minutes after delivering a passenger. The taxi did not return and Dr. Shelton continued his crawl until he reached the home of his friend, who summoned a taxi and had him removed to Hempstead hospital. Turbulent

Governor-Elect John Hammil, of Iowa, was present on the floor along with Governor Dineen, of Illinois, who has been elected to the new senate which convenes in March.

The ousted members of the Republican party—Senators Ladd, Frazier and Brookhart—held a little conference in the rear of the chamber, along with Senator Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Laborite, who just came in from his Minnesota farm this morning.

LaFollette, dressed in a dark cutaway, his white hair in its usual stiff pompadour strolled into the chamber as the session began. He was met by his vice presidential running mate, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, who came over to greet him.

Butler came down and took the seat formerly occupied by Senator Lodge, shortly after the session began. The absentees included Senators Dale, Vermont, who was announced seriously ill, Stephens, of Mississippi, who was recently injured and Reed, of Missouri, who was unavoidably detained.

Virtually every seat on the house floor was occupied. Mrs. Mae E. Nolan, California, only woman membea, sat near the rear on the Republican side between Representative Hill, of Maryland, and Representative Reed, of New York.

Insurgents May Force Delay

Most of the three months session will be occupied with routine adoption of the dozen or more appropriation bills. If the Independents, who were read out of the Republian party in the senate for their political insurgency in backing Senator Robert M. LaFollette, desire to force an extra session, they might do so by delaying action on one or two of these measures.

Steps have been taken in congress to abolish the short session and it is not unlikely that a resolution by Senator Norris, Nebraska, carrying out this step will be adopted before this session closes.

Three senators died—Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican leader; Frank C. Brandegee, Connecticut, and LeBarron Colt, Rhode Island. Brandegee's chair remains to be filled, but William M. Butler, in his trim business suit, came to answer in place of Lodge, and Jesse E. Metcalfe, of Rhode Island, a neat and impressive little man, takes Colt's seat.

Butler Opens New Regime

The coming of Butler signalized the advent of a new regime.

As chairman of the Republican National Committee he typifies the new leadership of the Republican party, under President Coolidge and his presence is expected to bespeak the sentiments of the White House which largely were left unspoken at the last session.

Charles E. Curtis likewise ascended to actual Republican leadership in the upper house. Honored by his party in being elected to fill that vacancy caused by the death of Lodge, Curtis will function as master of ceremonies on the floor.

The third new senator is Rice W. Means, of Colorado, who represents a Republican gain of one vote. He replaces Alva Adams, the Democrat who was filling an unexpected term but who was defeated at the last election.

On Wednesday the message of the President informing congress as to the state of the Union will be read. At that time too, the question of disposition of Muscle Shoals is to come up in the senate as the first order of business there under an agreement by unanimous consent reached before adjournment last June. It probably will be set aside promptly, however.

The first business to come before the house will be the regular appropriation bills. Fewer changes in personnel are noticeable there. Representative Nicholas Longworth continues as leader of the Republicans, Representative Garrett as leader of the Democrats. Death did not strike down during the recess any of the holders of important posts and the line-up continues just about the same as in the former session.

A re-arrangement of committee chairmanships is necessary in the senate. The committee on committees is expected to meet today or tomorrow under call of Senator Watson, Indiana, new assistant leader, and make the following changes:

Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee.

Hiram Johnson, chairman of the immigration committee.

Albert Cummins, chairman of the judiciary committee.

The steering committee composed of Senator Curtis, chairman; Wadsworth, Fernald, McCormick, Watson, Ladd (recently expelled from the Republican caucus because of his advocacy of La-Follette), will also meet and plan the program for the majority.

Huntington Capitalist Suffers Broken Leg When Auto Hits Pole Near Wheelersburg; Wife and Son Also Hurt

Abe Solof, Huntington captilist, is in the Kessler-Hatfield hospital, Huntington, suffering from a broken thigh, his son, Ted, has a painfully injured wrist and Mrs. Solof and Mr. and Mrs. Dez. C. Sconthal also of Huntngton are suffering from slight injuries as a result of an automobile accident late last night on Gallia pike near Lighthouse Beach, west of Franklin Furnace.

Mr. Schonthal, who is secretary-treasury of the West Virginia Rail company, and a business partner of Mr. Solof, was driving the automobile when the crash occurred. Neither he nor his wife were serverly hurt, according to advices from the Marting hospital in Ironton, where all of the injured were given first aid treatment. An ambulance then took Mr. Solof to the Huntington hospital, while the others followed in a taxicab.

The Huntington people were returning home from a Thanksgiving trip to Pittsburgh. The accident occurred, it is said, when the Solof machine, a Packard sedan, purchased not more than a week ago, was passing a lighter machine, the lighter machine skidding into the Solof car. This caused the sedan to swerve across the road and it went crashing down a slight embankment and against a telephone pole. The force of the broadside impact with the pole was almost sufficient to break the heavy car in two. The car was virtually demolished.

L. J. Haanan was the name given by the driver of the other machine who took the Huntington people to Marting hospital in Ironton.

SMOKE HOUSE TEAM HOLDS THE HIGHLY TOUTED IRONTON TANKS TO A SCORELESS TIE

Ironton Fans Sorely Disappointed When Team Fails To Turn Back Local Eleven

On a field on which snowshoes could have been used to an advantage, the Smoke House football eleven held the strong and highly touted Ironton Tanks to a scoreless tie yesterday afternoon.

Tearing through the big red line for spectacular tackles on the snow-covered field the local gridders made the Iron City pride and glory fight for every inch of ground they gained, and several times Ironton's goal was endangered as the result of long runs and successful line bucks made by the Smoke House backs.

The game was a moral victory for the Portsmouth squad, as they suffered defeat at the hands of the Tanks when they played in Ironton, to a score of 44-0. Both teams were slightly loaded for the game yesterday, Ironton importing Sonny Winters, one time Wesleyan flash, and Nemecek, former All-Conference end from State. The local team was reinforced with Pope and Moody, ends, and Tynes at fullback.

After the whistle blew the local squad received the ball and Adams, Tynes, and F. Clark tore through the opposing line for good substantial gains. It looked as if they were going straight down the field for a touchdown when they were finally forced to punt near the center of the field. Both teams then played hard, but neither endangered the other's goal until in the last part of the first half when the Tanks received a blocked punt and came to within five yards of scoring when the whistle sounded for the half.

In the last half Pfau replaced Tynes at full and Tynes went to quarter, replacing Moore. The Tanks were then really placed to a test as the local backs made sweeping end runs and tore through the line several times for first downs. After once being forced to punt during the latter part of the half, Pfau booted the ball eighty yards. The Tanks then made a frantic effort to score but were held back by hard tackling. Several Tank passes were intercepted by the locals who would have probably gotten loose for a touchdown had the field been in good condition.

Dewey Adams, who is home from Concord on a vacation played a halfback position and made several spectacular plays for the Smoke House team.

Every member of the local team played real football and the Tanks received the greatest shock of the season when they were unable to cross the Smoke House goal line.

The team was accompanied by several hundred rooters, who were confident their charges would win but it was Portsmouth's day to shine and the much touted Tanks with well paid college stars in their line-up were made to look like any other ordinary football team.

The line-up:

Both Harvard and Yale had trouble stopping "Swede" Oberlander, Dartmouth's fast-moving halfback. He's the big punch of the "Green" offense.

This has been a tough season for two of the south's most widely known teams, Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech. Both have suffered several reverses.

Kaw of Cornell and Boynton of Williams, All-American selections in their day, are starring for the Buffalo professional football team.

In Wilson, formerly of Penn State, the Army has a great running back, and in Hewitt, formerl yof Pitt, one of the best defensive men in the east. Quite a combination to stop.

Coach Harlow of Colgate, despite the Nebraska defeat, will consider the season a huge success if he beats Syracuse.

"Chuck" Darling of Boston College is one of the best punters in the east.

"Ducky" Pond, Yale halfback, has a habit of playing his best in the big games. His 48-yard run for a touchdown enabled the Blue to get a tie with the Army.

Nevers, Stanford's versatile athlete, is one of the outstanding fullbacks on the coast. He's also a clever pitcher.

Police Get Finger-Print Outfit

A complete finger-print and photographing outfit, purchased by Chief of Police Rome Arthur from the Wayman and Erbe Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., is due to arrive in a few days.

Under a new law photographs and finger print records of all persons convicted of felonies must be kept. The photographic outfit works automatically and is of the latest design used in this work. Photographer B. G. Harris and Dr. H. E. Hawk have been taking care of this work for the police department. Later when sufficient funds are available, a complete "rogue's gallery" will be installed, the chief says.

INVENTED BARBED WIRE —NOW NINETY-EIGHT YEARS OLD. Jacob Haish is now in feeble health at De Kalb, Ill. His first barbed wire patent was secured fifty years ago. He first combined the thorny branches of the osage hedge with plain wire to keep livestock from straying, and when this proved a failure, experimented until he hit upon the barbed wire which made him a millionaire.

VANCEBURG, WY., Dec. 1—(Special to the Times.)—This morning when the time arrived for the starting of the trial of Hopkins, local pool room and hotel owner who is charged with the fatal shooting of Fred Armstrong, 16 years old, several months ago, attorneys for the defense asked for a change of venue on the grounds that Hopkins cannot receive a fair trial in Lewis county. Arguments on the petition of the defense were heard this afternoon by Judge W. C. Halbert who is presiding over this adjourned session of circuit court. U. T. Thoroughman and R. D. Wilson are local attorneys for Hopkins.

WAVERLY

The K. of P. Minstrels given at the high school auditorium Wednesday and Thursday nights scored a complete triumph in the presence of two capacity houses. Trained by Pen Sank, the old Waverly minstrel man, the Waverly amateur cast actually outplayed their instructor, and sent everyone away highly pleased with their performance. As an end man Frank Logan was a knockout with his songs and funny jokes. Neil Rader, another end man, also put over two songs in clever style. Other blackface comedians were funny too, while all the ballad singers were liberally applauded. Dr. Pressler was a great success as interlocutor. Outfitted in broadcloth suits the entire company went through the drills in the opening and closing choruses almost faultless. In the afterpiece George D. Nye made a splendid portrayal of Old Uncle Eph, returning to the plantation after an absence of years. The Dixie dancing team of five girls and five boys then put on their song and dance number which was one of the features of the entertainment. An eccentric dance by Arthur Condon was the closing number.

Among the college students who came home for Thanksgiving were, Minnie E. Middleton of Oxford College, William Middleton of Wilmington college, Bonnie and Maxine Gehres of Ohio State, Marion Wills of Ohio State, Dorothy Andre and Albert Shrader of Ohio Wesleyan, Richard Dougherty and John Gregg of Kenyon College, Dorothy Dougherty, Mildred Miller, Mary Smith, James M. McLaughlin of Ohio State and Ada Gregg of Ohio University.

JACKSON

One of the largest of crowds recently gathered at the Country Club, enjoyed the dance on Thanksgiving evening. Young people were gathered there from Jackson, Wellston, McArthur and the surrounding vicinity. The hosts for the evening were Mr. Donald Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, of Jackson, Miss Lucille Gooding and Mr. Joe Gallagher of Wellston. Music for the dance was furnished by an orchestra from Columbus. The evening was one of fun as well as pleasure. In the Elimination dance the prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jones, who received a live turkey.

On Monday evening at eight o'clock a card party will be held at the Country Club for auction and pedro. The committee is Mr. and Mrs. John M. Martin of Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reese, of Wellston.

RISING PRICES USHER IN NEW WEEK ON STOCK MARKET

Coppers and Specialties In Demand; New Highs Reached By Numerous Stocks

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Rising prices ushered in the new week on the New York stock exchange. There was a large accumulation of the week-end buying orders for the coppers and specialties, more than a dozen issues attaining new high prices for the year in the first five minutes of trading. Universal Pipe and Radiator preferred advanced 2¼ points to a new top, other new highs including Consolidated Gas, Baltimore and Ohio, Frisco common, Kennecott, Magma and Inspiration coppers, Studebaker, Continental Can and Ajax Rubber.

Bullish operations were vigorously conducted throughout the early trading, the list of ne whighs reaching the 30 mark before the end of the first half hour. American Water Works (old stock) jumped 4½ points to a new top at 131. General Baking advanced 2 points, Pressed Steel Car 1½ and Southern Pacific, Houston oil, American Linseed Oil and Famous Players moved up a point or more. Among the issues to better their previous high prices were Union Pacific, North American Company, Public Service of N. J., Park and Tillford, General Motors, Hudson Motors, Pure Oil, American Tobacco (new) and Endicott Johnson. Foreign exchanges opened firm.

Several traders took advantage of the bullish demonstrations in the coppers, motors, public utilities, leathers and specialties by distributing selling orders in other stocks, St. Paul preferred, Seaboard Air Line preferred, Maxwell Motors B, Replogle Steel and several other issues falling back one to 2½ points. American Can advanced two points but most of the other standard industrials and rails within rather narrow limits, the marking up of the renewal rate on call money to 3 per cent apparently having a restrictive effect on trading. American Water Works (old) jumped 1¾ points to 130 and the new stock moved up 2⅝. Kansas City Southern was run up 4½ points and Pittsburgh and West Virginia two, both at new tops. Other issues to establish new maximum prices were American Smelting, Jordan Motors, Brown Shoe common and preferred, Westinghouse Air Brake, Otis Elevator and Chicago Northwestern.

The closing was irregular.

Throwing off the early restraint imposed by higher call and time money rates, stock prices bounded upward again today with buying most active in the coppers, motors, publi cutilities and specialties. Over 70 issues touched new 1924 highs. Sales approximated 1,850,000 shares.

Wheat Runs Up To New High Price for Season

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK MARKETS

Stocks higher; American Water Works jumps 12¾ points.
Bonds steady; high yielding rai lissues advance.
Foreign exchanges strong; sterling nears 1924 high; francs gain.
Cotton weak; increased crop estimates.
Sugar lower; commission house selling.
Coffee firm; bullish crop advices.

CHICAGO MARKETS

Wheat, barley steady; increased stocks.
Corn easy; larger receipts.
Cattle irregular.
Hogs steady to higher.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Wheat ran up rapidly today to new high price records for the season. Frost reports from Argentina, boding ill for the crop yield in that country, were chiefly responsible for the rise in values. The fact that deliveries on December contracts had apparently gone into strong hands tended also to lift prices. The opening, which ranged from ¼ to 1⅛c higher, with December 1.54⅝ to 1.55 and May 1.63 to 1.63¼, was followed by material further gains.

The market closed heavy at 1⅞c net lower to ⅜ advance. Dec. 1.53⅜ and May 1.60¾ to 1.61.

Corn and oats took an upward swing with wheat and as a result of the fact that December corn deliveries were smaller than had been expected. After opening at ¼ to 1⅛c higher, May 1.22⅛ to 1.22½, the corn market eased down a little but then went higher than before.

Corn closed easy at the same as Saturday's finish to ¾ lower. May 1.21 to 1.21⅛.

Oats started unchanged to ¾c higher, May 58½ to 58¾s and later continued to ascend.

Owing to sympathy with grain, provisions were firmer, notwithstanding a decline in the hog market.

Contrasting Price Movements Mark Early Bond Trading; Rails Active

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—Contrasting price movements marked today's early bond trading with the market failing to develop a clearly defined trend. Activity centered in the railroad group, where buying and selling orders were about evenly divided. Fractional gains included Baltimore and Ohio 4's, Kansas City Southern 5's, Seaboard convertible 6's and New Haven Franc 7's while corresponding losses were recorded by New Haven 3½'s, Denver and Rio Grande refunding 5's, St. Paul convertible 5's and 4's of 1925, Norfolk and Western 4's and the Erie convertible issues. Industrial liens generally were higher, sugar estates of the Orient moving up 2 points. The Marland Oil company has called for redemption on February 1, 1925, at 105 and acrued interests, its outstanding $2,205,000 7½ per cent bonds.

Industrials Are Active on Curb Market

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—Trading on the Curb Exchange today included heavy transactions in a number of industrials, some stocks that had been inactive coming into prominence and vigorously advancing in price. Among these was Centrifugal Pipe which rose 2 points to 10⅞. Many public utilities were traded on a large scale. American Gas and Electric moved up nearly 2 points and American Power and Light, which closed Saturday at 53½ also advanced 2 points. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore which recently yielded to below 32 reflected stead yabsorption since that level was established and today made a further gain of a point to 35⅝ on unusually large transactions.

STRANGLING THE INFANT

BELGIUM has lost a great industry and thereby hangs a tale.

Henry Ford, who operated an assembling plant therein, has dismantled it and moved over to Holland.

At the Belgium plant Ford turned out cars for several central European countries and was finding many sales therein.

He moves because Belgium raised the tariff on imported material for his cars from 20 per cent to 50 per cent, and so the infant industry was strangled to death.

Over here Ford believes in a tariff that runs up, in many instances to a hundred per cent. At least we suppose he does because for the first time he supported openly a candidate for president, who stands for the highest tariff wall that can be built.

And there are millions here who voted with him in the belief that the higher the tariff the more the infant will flourish.

Belgium places the dismal fact against the garish fancy.

A NEW PRECEDENT

GOVERNOR VIC DONAHEY has commuted the sentence of a wife murderer from electrocution to life imprisonment because the victim's mate was a persistent, pertinaceous nagger.

We have never been accused of a consuming admiration for "our dear governor, Vic Donahey," but we are rather proud of him for adding this decidedly unique cause for condonation to the history of criminology.

An unfortunate or two, we have known, who were the victims of a nagging wife and we always felt that if ever man were justified in rising up and slaying it was these poor devils—even to the impulse of taking a club and helping them do a thorough job of it.

ALWAYS THE EXCEPTION

A lot of Missouri and Nebraska children made a trip, Thanksgiving Day, to Lincoln's tomb, a most fitting thing, in a way, that the youth of a southern and northern state should join in memorial to the Civil War president.

Of course, some one seizes upon the incident to propose that a youthful pilgrimage be made to the Lincoln tomb annually. Though the land is over plagued with days and weeks and holidays, that have little to commend them, there is something in this particular suggestion, rather something to commend it to universal acceptance.

Lincoln, more than any other president, illustrated the true genius of a republican form of government. He believed in the people, he was for the people all the time and against every untoward influence and above all he was the living exemplar and toleration. Even his enemies he saw good in, loved them and would do good to them.

MERE WORD STRESSING

NOW we are told that President Coolidge's message this week to congress will stress economy.

That sounds fine, but it is high time it were done with.

All through the campaign Cautious Cal harped everlastingly and continuously on economy. According to his admirers, who never stopped, apparently, to think, it was the one living, vital, palpitating thing about which the battle of the ballots raged, though there didn't happen to be any raging at all.

And Cautious Cal reiterates it. But what does it all amount to? Everybody, we grant, not excepting Cautious Cal himself, is hotly in favor of governmental economy. However, that isn't the trouble at all. The rub is how does the President propose to bring it about, where does he think the ax should be applied? On these matters he, in so far as any evidence appears, hasn't yet made up his mind.

If the traveler to Jericho doesn't know the road and everybody he meets tells him that is the place to go, but he must take a different path, how is he ever to get there?

We are sorry and disgusted at this stupid effort to make it appear that a man who hesitates and palters on every public matter, is a wise and fearless leader who is going to lead the country out of a maze of clash, disorder and uncertainty.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up early and had breakfast with my mother-in-law, and she made hash as fine as ever I ate. And I was holpen thrice. Afterward to romp awhile with my new dog Billy, a droll little Boston.

Home and at my stint, but so much ringing of the telephone I gave it up and so set out with Billy De-Beck, the limner, and stopped in to see Jack Lait, who has lately become a managing editor, and found he had no time for triders.

In the evening to the dinner to David Belasco at the Green Room Club and he made a brave speech, albeit I have always thought him too much the poseur. Later to walk to my tavern with S. J. Kaufman and so to bed.

The Cheese Club is composed of a group of Broadway wits. Its membership consists mostly of press agents and second string dramatic men. There are no dues and once or twice a month they get together for a kidding match. Now Broadway has similar organizations in The Moron Club. Their motto is, "More Fun For Imbeciles." The club is growing fast and there is actually talk of building a clubhouse.

The Winter Garden has come back into its own. The runways, where barelegged girls flitted down among the audience have been restored, and smoking, for two years banned, is now permitted.

H. B. Colver is a New York lawyer, who for years has made a hobby of building a flotilla of miniature ships—the collection of which was recently on exhibition. One of the models cost more than $25,000. Bob Davis, the magazine editor, makes a hobby of collecting miniature elephants. He is said to have the largest collection in America.

A former dramatic critic is now resting in Ludlow Street jail for the non-payment of alimony. He expects to be there until the flowers bloom in the spring tra-la. But he has not wasted lagging hours. He had always wanted to write a novel, but never found time. Where he had plenty of leisure he drafted a synopsis and received a $5,000 advance and expects to finish it by the time he departs.

They are asking on Broadway: Where have the old-timers gone? They have scattered to the four winds. Returning travelers tell of seeing them along the Paris boulevards, along the Strand and even in far away Shanghai mourning for the dead days that are gone and will return no more. Wilson Mizner, the gayest raconteur the street ever knew, is selling bricks in Florida. Jay O'Brien is basking in the sunshine of Southern France. Zed Kiley is a cabaret king of Montmartre. So is Harry Pilcer. Dick Donovan caters to the epicurean taste of Shanghai. Now and then they come back and shed a few salty tears for departed glories and take the next boat back. Broadway is another street. Those who know say it will never return to its old-time zip and dash. Gaiety hides itself away from the lights.

The other evening I sat in a cafe where Chas. M. Schwab was dining at one table and Will Hays at another. But the cynosure of all eyes was a vampish looking creature who had just achieved the first pages for being named co-respondent in a celebrated divorce. Such is fame!

Youth's Agitations

When I shall be divorced, some ten years hence,
From this poor present self which
I am now;
When youth has done its tedious
vain expense
Of passions that forever ebb and flow;

Shall I not enjoy youth's heats that are left behind,
And breathe more happy in an even clime?
Ah no! for then I shall begin to find
A thousand virtues in this hated time.

Then I shall wish its agitation back,
And all its thwarting currents of desire;
Then I shall praise the heat which then I lack,
And call this hurrying fever, generous fire;

And sigh that one thing only has been lent
To youth and age in common—discontent. —Mathew Arnold.

Mamma Surprised Again

Marjory—"Mamma, were you at home when I was born?"

Mother—"No, darling, I was at grandma's in the country."

"Wasn't you awful s'prised when you heard about it?"—The Triangle.

The Eternal Feminine

A little girl had been bothering her mother all day with questions. Finally the mother said, "Mary, do you know that curiosity once killed a cat?" Well, mother," asked Mary, "what did the cat want to know?"

Cruel

"Women certainly have no consistency," said Brown ruefully, when he strolled into the club.

"What's the matter?" came in chorus.

"Well," he said, "my wife chased me out this morning, and then cried because I left home without kissing her goodbye."

Raw Material

Son (reading) "Pop, what is a pedestrian?"

Pop—A pedestrian, my son, is the raw material for an accident.

His Nose Knows

Little smells of cigarettes,
And little smells of gin,
Tell a nosey Daddy
Where his little girl has been.

Hitting On All Four

Dick, aged five, thinks in terms of automobiles rather than those of natural history. Startled by a dog, running swiftly and barking gruffly, he described the event, vividly exclaiming: "Daddy, he came tearing down the road with his cut-out open."

Limerick

Oh, what a fine large archipelago
Lies down near Key West, ifafelago!
I have lapped up its rum
Till I don't care, by gum,
A ding-busted whoop wherethehelago! —E. M. P.

With Reservations

Clara: "Is it true that young Nutley proposed to you and that you rejected him?"

Sara: "He proposed. But I didn't exactly reject him. I told him that any time I wanted to make a fool of myself, I'd let him know."

Her Logic

Mrs. A (at resort)—Doesn't it worry you to have to write to your husband for money?

Mrs. B—Not at all. If he's having a good time he owes it to me, and if he isn't having a good time he has saved it.

The Efficiency System

Marjorie (going to bed)—"Mother, I needn't brush the tooth the dentist is going to pull tomorrow, need I?"—Boston Transcript.

A Frost For the Lecturers

The expedition endured the extremest hardship."

"Yes, I understand they were locked in the ice during two lecture seasons."—Detroit Free Press.
